I've been doing some searching on the forum, but none of my searches are yielding results. I have a vague impression that someone once posted something about the flashing pink / white controller overlay in the team data section of the game, when you change your playbook. Anyone know where the palette locations would be to change the pink portion of the flashing controller color? Is it not that simple? Can you point me to the information on the forum, if it exists? Thanks for any wisdom! :thumbsup:

The flashing controller on the Team Data Play Book screen is x1AE76 (Pink) x1AE79 (White) The flashing buttons on the Game Play Select screen is x274C8-x274CF
